EXPLANATORY NOTE

This bill seeks to grant the Southern Luzon State University (SLSU) a congressional franchise to construct, operate, manage and maintain a network of radio broadcasting stations in the Province of Quezon primarily for educational purposes.

In this period of communication and technology advancement, numerous studies have established the importance of university radio broadcasting in student learning and development and the need for a participatory approach to knowledge sharing and dissemination with the help of mass media. The use of broadcasting especially among students, is arguably an effective method for inducing behavioural changes for overall development of students and it also proved to affect the self-learning and training abilities of the students. Hence, campus radio broadcasting contributes a lot to student learning, information dissemination, engagement, and community service.

Furthermore, employing radio as an instructional medium can redefine the learning experience, have integrative effects, trigger active participation, enhance educational experience, and maximize community engagement.

And especially now that in the onset of COVID 19 pandemic remote learning opportunities must be afforded to the students as an alternative to “face-to-face” learning approach.

For these reasons, it is but timely that Southern Luzon State University (SLSU) be afforded congressional franchise to construct, operate, manage and maintain a network of radio broadcasting stations in the Province of Quezon as an effective means to disseminate information, educate and informed its students and the community as well towards nation building.

In light of the foregoing, passage of this bill is urgently sought.
