8325
House Bill No. __________

Introduced by Magdalo Party-List Representative
Hon. Manuel Dg. Cabochan III

Explanatory Note

The Philippines is frequently exposed to disaster risks such as earthquakes, floods, and typhoons. According to the 2018 World Risk Report, the Philippines ranked third among the countries with the highest risks with an index value of 25.14%.\footnote{UN Office for Disaster Risk Reduction. Disaster Risk Reduction in the Philippines. Status Report 2019. Information retrieved from https://www.unisdr.org/files/68265_682308philippinedrsmstatusreport.pdf} Hence, appropriate information dissemination related to disasters must be implemented to help the public anticipate and prepare for them.

Unfortunately, most of the government’s disaster-related information including announcements, advisories, press releases, and issuances are only limited to the Filipino and English language format. This creates a literacy problem for many people with regional language and dialect differences. The language barrier affects the comprehension of such vital information, leaving them vulnerable to disasters.

This bill aims to mandate government agencies and local government units to convert disaster-related information to an easily understandable Filipino format and other appropriate regional dialects. The translated information shall be disseminated.
through all available media and communication channels. This measure hopes to foster effective communication in times of disaster that would result in more saved lives.

In view of the foregoing, the immediate passage of this bill is earnestly sought.
