HOUSE BILL NO. 9645

Introduced by Representative Joselito “Joel” S. Sacdalan, First District-North Cotabato

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This proposed bill seeks to convert the 21.927 kilometer Brgy Barangiran - Sitio Dulao, Barangay Upper Dado Access Road to Declared Tourism Destination (Asik-Asik Falls) in the municipality of Alamada, Province of Cotabato.

Alamada is a landlocked municipality with a population of 64,596 people and a density of 82 inhabitants per square kilometers or 210 inhabitants per square mile as of 2015 census (Philippine Statistics Authority). Vast and fertile land, forest and water sources are some of the locality’s natural resources. It has rivers and waterfalls that flow heading the lowland irrigating hectares of agricultural land.

One of the natural endowment of the municipality is the Asik-Asik Falls or the Dulao Falls to the locals which is is situated in Sitio Dulao of Barangay Upper Dado, Alamada, North Cotabato. ... The water then drops to a shallow rocky pool below before flowing into a stream tributary of Alamada River.
This water fall has a unique feature, as the water comes from the rocks, instead of a stream making it distinct from all other falls in the Philippines.

This Access Road leading to Asik-Asik Falls has received funding from the DPWH-DOT Convergence Program for its construction, improvement (concreting), but however, remain its category as local road. Because its funding for construction and improvement came from a special program, the local officials of the Municipality of Alamada and the Province of Cotabato want to assure that this Access Road leading to the declared tourist destination will receive regular and yearly funding for its maintenance and improvement. Hence, this request for the conversion of this 21.927 local road to a national road.

In view of the foregoing, the approval of this bill is earnestly recommended.
